

AURION COMPASS //

Imagine a workplace where everyone knows where to find key information

Connect better at work with our new content management solution for Aurion – Aurion Compass. Aurion Compass helps your people find information they need, communicate and be part of your culture.

With Aurion Compass, your team can easily search and discover content from a single and secure location. Publish, edit, share, review and search all of your important workplace documents and media with speed, security and confidence.

With 1-click integration from Aurion Self Service, your team can easily access key information online, anytime from any device. Employees can reduce time spent searching for documents and media with a range of features that simplify information access in one central, secure location.

You can also simply and easily manage compliance activities, with full reporting of employee completion rates for mandatory activities such as policy review and learning.
